

Pig Kare w/ Pump

Pig Kare gives a short and long-term energy boost to cold, weak or lethargic piglets. Pig Kare also contains natural ingredients like functional proteins, fat for energy plus Vitamin E.

Features & Benefits

- Energy source to be given to all newborn pigs.
- Weak pigs should receive a second dosage every 3 to 4 hours.
- Pigs will have more energy to nurse.
- May be used on older pigs that fall behind litter mates.
- Very easy to use.
- Increases number of pigs weaned.
- Increases weight of pigs at three weeks.
- Lowers medication costs.
- Decreases morbidity and mortality.

Overview

Pig Kare is designed to be a quick, efficient energy source. It provides the energy needed to get all the piglets up and fighting for a teat, resulting in every piglet receiving more colostrum from the mother. Each piglet needs one pump as soon after birth as possible. Piglets are more active and will be able to better compete with their litter mates for milk. Small and weak piglets should receive Pig Kare their second and third day of life to keep them active and give them the energy necessary to survive. Older pigs can benefit from Pig Kare as well. When one or two of the older piglets fall behind, a pump of Pig Kare per day will usually help them catch up with their litter mates. Users of Pig Kare have reported lower death rate and larger pigs at three weeks.